I believe my nominee should receive this award because...

Doctor Christian Urban is the most helpful, inspiring and passionate professor I have met during my three years at King's College London.

I had the opportunity to study both his Functional Programming course in Scala but also the Compilers and Formal languages module. Both modules have had great content, additional handouts and formative homework. The professor has put effort into both of these modules and has provided interesting and challenging content.

During these difficult times, Dr. Urban made sure all of his students, both those online and those in person, are on track with their studies and doing well.

Moreover, he has provided assistance in his office hour, via email and handwritten feedback to every assignment on time (sometimes for more than 80+ students at a time).

As an academic, I believe Dr. Urban should receive this award for his outstanding way of teaching, but I also want to nominate him for his personal qualities. Dr. Christian Urban is charismatic, passionate about innovation, funny, patient and the most important thing: truly caring about community and his students.

Thank you for taking the time to read my thoughts.

He taught the CFL module so well. It was very interesting and well structured. He gave us plenty of time to do the coursework which was really appreciated.

This coursework was the perfect mixture of difficult while also being enjoyable.

His friendly and relaxed personality was great to see as well.

He has also helped me a lot with the individual project even though he is so busy.
